PREFACE

The Story of Thomas Banks Harris Missouri Pioneer

In preparing a genealogy a story naturally begins with the emigrant ancestor but in this case he is unknown as yet so I shall begin with the man I once knew, my grandfather, and tell what stories he left his descendants of his ancestry. Perhaps then, others can add to this information until we can localize the earlier ancestors and eventually find the elusive emigrant ancestor.

The obituaries of both Thomas B. Harris and his wife, Margaret Dun Harris reflect the high regard in which they were held. Of her it was said, "Margaret D. Harris, daughter of Nero and Elizabeth Thompson, was born in Howard Co., Dec. 12th 1828. On the 16th of January, 1845, she was married to Thomas B. Harris. Shortly afterwards they settled on a farm near Burton where they continued to reside until her death which occurred Nov. 18, 1888." The rest of the long obituary tells of her long illness (consumption), the love of her family, her patience, faith and courage.

Rev. J. W. Mitchell conducted her funeral and that of her husband, as well as many of the marriages in the family. They were all members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church which was built on grandfather's farm. The school built nearby has been used until very recently. A room or rooms have been added to it but some years ago when my father and I stopped to look at it, he said part of it was the original structure where he taught before he married my mother.

My mother, Olivia Harris Cross, born in 1850, has told stories of her school days there. She told how she once traded a biscuit with jelly for a piece of lightbread spread with tomatoes which a German child had in her lunch. She expected to be ill for it was her first taste of tomatoes. She knew what they were, for they had "love apples" in the garden for decoration. She also told of early days when the snow was piled high and the children huddled around the stove to keep warm - typical stories of early pioneering days in any state.

In a Fayette paper in 1904 appeared these words: "On Friday, January 22, there died in Fayette at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. W. Jacobs, another one of the pioneers of the early days of Missouri - Thomas B. Harris."

"The funeral services were held last Sunday at Centenary Chapel conducted by Rev. J. W. Mitchell of Marshall, Mo., assisted by Rev. Fielding Marvin. A large number of friends and relatives were present to pay a last tribute to the remains of the aged pioneer. He was laid to rest in Walnut Ridge Cemetery.

"Mr. Harris was born in Grayson Co., Ky., in 1818 and was brought to Mo. by his parents in 1819. They settled in Lincoln Co., Mo., but returned to Kentucky after a sojourn of six months. In 1820 the family came back to Mo. and in 1821 they moved to Howard Co. and settled on the Alfred Morrison place near Fayette. When 20 years old Thomas Harris went to Platte County to manage a farm for a relative. At the end of three years he bought a farm for himself but this land was swept away in the terrible flood of 1844.

"Mr. Harris returned to Howard County the same year and started the battle of life anew without a dollar. He took up 80 acres of land on the spot where the old Harris homestead now stands and by ability and industry added many acres to this small tract. At one time he owned 1000 acres of land in that township, but the greater part of the land he bestowed upon his sons.

"In 1845 he was married to Miss Margaret D. Thompson of Howard County and to this union were born 14 children, five of whom, and the wife of his youth, are long since dead." (List of children is given).

"Mr. Harris fought under Gen. Price in the War of Rebellion. He was one of the original stockholders and promoters of the Payne and Williams Bank in 1871. He was a ruling elder in the Sharon Presbyterian Church. In 1894 he was married to Miss Lou Brown, but she died a year later. He leaves 44 grandchildren and four great grandchildren. He was the oldest of ten children of an old pioneer Kentucky couple and of that family his brother, Claiborne Harris, and three sisters living near Burton, survive him.

"Mr. Harris played an important part in the early history of Howard Co. Those were days of strong men and this stalwart survivor of that age was prominent in the enterprises and improvements of his day. He was a man of strong and steadfast character and high morals. Men yet speak of 'Tome Harris's word' - once passed it was his pride that it was never broken and his old time friends swore by it. It is said of him that he never turned back from any work that he set his hand to. Physically he was a big man of great bodily strength and like most of the brotherhood of Daniel Boone and Clark and Lewis, possessed an iron constitution. He dwelt almost continuously for nearly a century upon Howard County soil and surviving for many years almost all his friends and neighbors with whom he toiled to make that soil a garden spot where once it was a wilderness, he was last Sunday received to its bosom."

Toward the end of his life my grandfather lived with us for several months at a time and the things he said and did are still quoted by his grand children. For example, to one who remarked: "Do you think it will rain?" he would reply, "It will be a mighty long dry spell if it doesn't". The year he was married to "Aunt Lou", his very frail, second wife, they lived in Mexico, Mo. After her death he came to our home in the country. One of my vivid memories is of his riding off to town on "Rowdy" a beautiful black horse. Grandfather was very tall, straight, with long white whiskers (like Moses, we always said) so he was indeed, a striking figure to command respect of everyone. Also one of the childhood jokes was "little Willie's" remark when the horse would nicker for grandfather, "Rowdy's puckering again".

Grandfather read continuously. First came his Bible which he knew intimately. In later years he used a New Testament with large type because of his failing eyesight. I still have his bookmark made in needlepoint on a red background with the German words "Hoffnung, Giebe, Lebe." (Hope, faith, love). I wish it might reveal its origin to us now. I do not recall his other favorite books but I do recall his resentment of Tom Paine whom he called a godless scoundrel. He evidently knew the authors for even now I can hear him say, "O, why should the spirit of mortal be proud?"

He was vigorous mentally and physically. He had a contempt for dallying. "Going to town tomorrow?" Why not "Today" for that means action. Among my keepsakes, besides clippings and funeral notices are letters written by my grandparents, my parents' correspondence before they were married and letters from Aunt Artie and others. As I count my gray hairs I realize that they will have little value in memories for others unless they know to whom they relate.

So this is why at this time I take time out to collect the material I have and assemble it so that it will be of value to others. I am mimeographing a limited number of copies for my data is so very incomplete. These pages can be assembled in a note book and each of you can then add to it through the years. Some day if the material warrants the effort it might be published.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

The history of the United States is a story of growth and development. It begins with the first settlers who came to the continent in search of a new home. These early pioneers faced many hardships, but they persevered and built a nation that would become one of the most powerful in the world. The story of the United States is a story of the triumph of the human spirit over adversity.

THE HISTORY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON

The first settlement in Boston was made in 1630 by a group of Puritan settlers from England. They came to the city in search of religious freedom and a place to practice their faith. The settlers were led by John Winthrop, who gave them the name "Boston" in honor of the city of Boston in England. The city grew rapidly and became one of the most important centers of commerce and industry in the New World. In 1639, the city was incorporated as a town, and in 1688, it was elevated to the status of a city. The city has since grown into one of the largest and most important cities in the United States.

The city of Boston has a rich and varied history. It has been the site of many important events, including the Boston Tea Party, the Battle of the Clouds, and the Boston Massacre. The city has also been the home of many famous people, including John F. Kennedy, Martin Luther King Jr., and many others. The city is known for its many historic landmarks, including the Freedom Trail, the Boston Common, and the Old State House. The city is also known for its many parks and green spaces, including the Boston Public Garden and the Arnold Arboretum.

The city of Boston is a vibrant and diverse community. It is home to people from many different backgrounds and cultures. The city is known for its many festivals and events, including the Boston Marathon and the Boston Symphony Orchestra. The city is also known for its many museums and cultural institutions, including the Museum of Science and the Boston Children's Museum. The city is a place of opportunity and growth, and it is proud to be a part of the city's rich and varied history.

The Harris Mansion-Howard Co., Mo., Nov. 25, 1875
Written by Mary H. Larnack
(Copied by Artie Staiger, June 9, 1902 at Mexico, Mo.)

The winter winds whistle
The sky is dark and drear
I've not had a single tussle
With Livia, my love, so dear.

There's not a ray of sunshine
To cheer this lonely hour
But then there'll be sometime
For we trust in higher power.

This day is nearly past
The night is coming on;
In viewing the few weeks past
I'll jot some good thoughts down.

I'll often think of this room
And of my roommates dear
And sigh to be again at "home"
When to it, I'm not near.

Livia is sitting reading now
Within her Sunday gown
While Artie made a good bow
And has since then gone down.

Matt is looking rather blue
And Rome went to meeting.
Virg would write a book for you
Only the spelling of the words beat him.

'Tis Sunday eve and I am lone
As any bird could well be
But then I'll soon be home
My love and friends to see.

Bell is doing nice as anyone
And Price is like her father old
What there is to say will soon be done
For the weather is rather cold.

Mr. Harris has tried to get my mail
And also to get his own.
His wife is nice and frail
As any one I've ever known.

Our family is not completed yet
But I'll mention those who've flown.
The oldest of them all is Bett

Then comes Will with sorrel hair
And eyes the self same hue.
He has left his father's lair
And gone to make his home too.

There's Millard, a dark haired lad
His age is four years and one score
'Twas sometime since he left his dad
And he'll come back no more.

But I must now my verses break
And read and think of something better
For the winter winds make me shake
And tell you what I want-a "letter".

1. The first part of the experiment was devoted to the study of the effect of temperature on the rate of reaction. The reaction was carried out at three different temperatures, and the rate was measured by the change in concentration of the reactants over a period of time. The results showed that the rate of reaction increased with increasing temperature, and that the activation energy of the reaction was approximately 15 kcal/mole.

2. The second part of the experiment was devoted to the study of the effect of concentration on the rate of reaction. The reaction was carried out at a constant temperature, and the rate was measured by the change in concentration of the reactants over a period of time. The results showed that the rate of reaction increased with increasing concentration, and that the reaction was first order with respect to the concentration of the reactants.

3. The third part of the experiment was devoted to the study of the effect of a catalyst on the rate of reaction. The reaction was carried out at a constant temperature, and the rate was measured by the change in concentration of the reactants over a period of time. The results showed that the rate of reaction was significantly increased by the presence of a catalyst, and that the activation energy of the reaction was lowered by approximately 10 kcal/mole.

4. The fourth part of the experiment was devoted to the study of the effect of a solvent on the rate of reaction. The reaction was carried out in two different solvents, and the rate was measured by the change in concentration of the reactants over a period of time. The results showed that the rate of reaction was significantly increased by the presence of a solvent, and that the activation energy of the reaction was lowered by approximately 5 kcal/mole.

5. The fifth part of the experiment was devoted to the study of the effect of a reactant on the rate of reaction. The reaction was carried out at a constant temperature, and the rate was measured by the change in concentration of the reactants over a period of time. The results showed that the rate of reaction was significantly increased by the presence of a reactant, and that the activation energy of the reaction was lowered by approximately 5 kcal/mole.

History of Howard and Cooper Counties, Missouri

- p.275. About 1500 men from Howard County fought in the Confederate army. Between 500 and 700 joined Gen. Sterling Price on his last raid through the state. Among the Confederate soldiers listed are: C.B. Harris, Nero Thompson, Given Johnson, Hardin Harris, Ezekiel Harris, William Markland, Luther Markland, John T. Markland, William Harris, John Thompson.
- p.381. In the story of Claiborne Harris it says "Thomas Harris, grandfather of Claiborne, was a pioneer in Kentucky with Daniel Boone" William Harris, father of Claiborne, b May 15, 1793 in Ky -came to Mo. in 1821.
- p.599. N.M. Thompson, native of Ky., born 1794, emigrated to Howard Co. in 1812, m. Elizabeth Williams, dau. of Colden Williams. 16 children.
- Wm S. Thompson, b Howard Co., Mo., Dec. 7, 1820, m. Oct 8, 1839, Mary Jeffries of Clay Co., Mo., dau. of John Jeffries. 6 children: Nero, Elizabeth, Nancy Ann, Colden, Armenta M. and Margaret.

Research has been made in Missouri, Virginia and Kentucky on this family. The Howard and Randolph records are full of material. The Lincoln Co., Mo. records have much material on the Downings. The Grayson Co., Ky., records are lost, for they say they burn the courthouse every forty years-1856-1896 and 1936. Fortunately the records since 1896 were stored in fireproof vaults and saved but the earlier records are lost.

At Frankfort, Ky. the tax records of Grayson Co. are found which give lists of names. At Mexico, Mo. Thomas Harris used to visit with an old friend, Bro. Bourne from Hardin Co., Ky. and these two men would vie with each other in telling of the rough country, the dense forests where the owls would hoot in the daytime and the perils of early pioneering days. Other Kentucky courthouses have been searched but little helpful data was found.

One disadvantage in searching was due to the frequent recurrence of the names William and Thomas. It was a matter of pride that these names were used interchangeably each generation. Thomas B. named his oldest son, William and William's son was named Thomas-and so it went, backwards and forwards. Middle names were not widely used in early days so there is no way of attaching one's line to the myriads of Williams and Thomases that fill the early records.

The first three of the following letters were written by Margaret D. Harris and the last by her husband, Thomas B. Harris. They easily show the personality of the authors and so are worth preserving.

Friday Eve, June 17 (no date)

Dear Children: I will try to write you a few lines as the rest will not take though you know it will be a poor something. The family can all eat heartily and no right to complain. Our relations are all as well as common. Polly Thompson's cancer is giving her some trouble of late. She can't wear her spectacles now. I look for it to kill her yet. Old Mr. Minor died Monday last.

We have locusts in abundance, the apple trees sometimes are covered. We have fruit plenty but whether to use it is a question. Raspberries plenty but afraid to use them. Livia, I wish you were here to see our nice garden. We planted late but everything looks prosperous. But the best of all we have a kind heavenly Father that sends us rain in due time. He will never, no never forsake us while we trust him. Children, don't let losses and trials put you out of the right way, battle on the harder, for the goal is at the end. Think of that crown that is laid up for the pure in heart. Keep your lamps always trimmed and burning. Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your father which is in heaven. We can be good advisers but not doers.

Livia, I forgot to tell you that I had quit chilling for which I am so thankful. Your Pah and I are talking of coming to see you this summer but I want to see Artie when she moves to herself and I don't believe I can make two trips in one summer. You know what a home chap I am. Well, I will quit and let the girls write some. Good Bye, children for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross:

Dear Children: I will try to write you a few lines as Price is writing. The relations are all tolerable well. Your Uncle William has been very poorly all winter but is sitting up now and walking around in his room. Your aunts are getting along very well. Rachel has to stay at home now she is so fleshy and clumsy. Virgil has just returned from Platte and Clinton and the folks are all well. Jerome's father in law has set him up so well to house keeping. He has a nice house to live in and a beautiful, lovely girl to live with. I dreaded so much for him to bring her home but I believe she helped me to get well. She was so much help that I couldn't hardly give her up. I do not know why but when Betty left it seemed I could not stand it. I felt like I wanted her to stay always. I commenced to feel awful bad for I took severe spells of coughing and spitting blood before I was taken sick. Livia, I was so sick I did not know much for ten days. When I could think of dying I would feel so happy and contented to go to my Saviour, I would think I was almost in his arms but soon as I began to mend I found myself the same sinful child. I waked grumbling at my nurses which I had no right to do.

I tell you children, don't put off preparation till you get sick for there is no time then you will have enough to do to bear your pains. Just turn to the Fourth Chapter of First Peter and read it particular and see if there isn't promises to me there. I think so - and all through the Bible.

Your father says he is coming to see you as soon as he can, he did not say when but I think he will. Newton, you and Livia come this summer if you can. I would like to see you. Write as soon as you can, from your loving mother.

Dear Artie: As I never did write to you I thought I would try this time. I am tolerable well only I have such a smothering and hard breathing in cloudy weather, have the headache and backache today. It is snowing finely now this evening. The girls and I are alone. Virgil is at Millard's and Pah is gone over to see if there is any preaching at the church as it is our day.

Artie, I wish you would take better care of yourself. You said you went up to town after that calico. I rather never have got it if you had to be exposed. You stay close in the house till next summer if you want to live. I feel thankful to stay in the house and live when you know your lungs are affected-live in view of that and let nothing hinder you from it.

Artie, you said you wished I could live with you so you could take care of me in my old days. You would find it a hard task but you tried it once. I will never forget the days we spent alone when you waited on me so tenderly and cheerful and tried to make me happy but couldn't. Sickness hindered. All this helps to the Promised Land where we can meet to part no more. Yes, we can dwell there forever. Look to that day, dear Artie. If I had thought Mother Staiger had such a bad disease I would have parted more tenderly but just like me, thought I would soon see her again. Tell Louis that Virgil is going to send the apples as soon as he can. He could not get time Saturday to get them out. Well, it is getting late. I cannot see my lines. Farewell.

Burton, Mo.

Dear Sir Mr. J.N. Cross. I received your welcome, respectful letter yesterday the 12th and write you this morning the 13th at 3 o'clock as I am very busy. This leaves us all in good health except colds. Yesterday was a cold, snowy day. I hope this will find you enjoying good health in body and mind. I want you to keep a stiff upper lip and don't take the blues, try and be too good a philosopher to die with trouble. Tell Bro. Davis for me I am very sorry to hear of his afflictions and give him my respects. Also tell him Brother J.B. Mitchell does our preaching at Roanoke this year. Also tell him Bro. Sharp has gone crazy. It is thought from hard studying. The last I heard from him he was a good deal better and it was thought he would be alright again. Father and family are well as usual. I saw your Uncle Clabourne Sunday and they are well. Mrs. Wm Burton has moved back to her mother. Ship shot and killed Mr. Clark living near New Franklin a short time ago and the grand jury found a true bill against him for murder in the first degree. The general opinion is they will hang him. He, Ship, is in the Fayette jail. We have elected Robert Fisher our trustee for the present year and I expect Thomas Owings our school superintendent for the county. I met with our Bro. F.M. Grimes at our school meeting. He looked plagued. I don't know how he felt.

I saw Pat F. _____ a few days ago. They are well-talking about the sweet baby and kissing it occasionally. Health is generally good. I expect to commence plastering my building today. I shall be very busy the next five months. Our grange store is running well at Burton. Mr. Celcer and McCafferty have dissolved partnership and Celcer is building a house in Sedalia..... I am getting along farming tolerable well for the season. Excuse my hand. I am getting old and no scholar. Let me hear from you. I wish you well. No more at present. Yours with respect.

FIRST GENERATION

1. Thomas Harris lived in Ky., visited in Mo. Claiborne Harris says his grand father, Thomas married Mary Owings. To date no records have been found concerning this family. Mrs Clyde Leighty says her father said Thomas Harris married Nancy Carruth or Carruthers and could recall Carruthers cousins from Ky, who visited the family.

Children (Harris):

- 2 i. William b May 15, 1793 in Ky. m. Margaret Downing
 ii. Isaac settled in Randolph Co., Mo. Census records of 1830 of Randolph Co. list his family as 1 male (30-40) 1 female (20-30) 1 male (10-15), 2 females (under 5) 2 females (5-10) 1 female (10-15)-which make a family of parents and six children under fifteen years of age.

2. William Harris (Thomas), b. Grayson Co., Ky. May 15, 1793 d. in Mo. May 15, 1876 m. Aug. 15, 1815 Margaret (Peggy) Downing, dau. of Ezekiel and Rachel (Brown) Downing. (See-Excursus Downing). (I use the date 1793 as given in Harris Family Bible and on gravestone, Hist. of Howard and Cooper Counties gives 1792. One history gives the date of 1820 and another 1821 of emigration to Mo. I use 1820. Other discrepancies appear as the story of the family is written by different ones in Missouri histories.)

William Harris was a Kentuckian, a river pilot who emigrated to Mo. in 1820 with his wife and two children on one horse. Will Harris (No. 2) adds these details: One horse was lost in a stream so Margaret rode the other horse carrying her spinning wheel on the horse. They came to Randolph settling at Randolph Springs, then moved north of Fayette where he lived when he carried the chain that surveyed the town of Fayette. He brought a coal of fire from Ky. in a piece of "wood leather". In 1838 he moved to the place where the old aunts lived and died. He built the fireplace there and it is said the old aunts never let the fire from this old coal from Ky. die out.

William Harris was a man of large and powerful stature, and independent in thought, averse to work but a good trafficker. He loved a good horse and accumulated some property. In the Hist. of Howard and Cooper Co (page 604) it says he was born May 15, 1793 in Virginia. He lived there till 16 years of age, emigrated to Ky., and in 1812 or 1813 he married Margaret Downing. After living in Ky. a few years he removed to Howard Co. before the present town of Fayette contained a house. He carried the chain for Alfred W. Morris when Howard Co. was surveyed. Jackson, his son, remained with his father till 23 years old, soon entering the employ of Gen. Clark for whom he had previously worked at intervals. Mrs. Harris died May 30, 1867

One warm summer day I recall the fire was burning for it was a tradition that it should never die. They used candles for lighting and retired early with the chickens (we always said). They clung to old customs and ways always. My sister Helen recalls one visit there when she ate gooseberry pie with rich cream and became very ill. My most vivid memory was when I started to kiss Aunt Rellie goodbye and she jumped away from me. It was then I learned about the lost sweetheart and how she had never kissed anyone since he had gone. WILLIAM HARRIS and FAMILY
Story by William Lee Harris, New London, Mo.
November, 1950

William Harris was born May 15, 1793. His ancestors were from Ireland. He died May 15, 1876 - 83 years old. For seventeen years he was badly affected with a cancer on the bottom of one foot. He was born in Kentucky. His parents moved to Va. when he was sixteen, then back to Kentucky where he married Margaret Downing Aug. 10, 1815. Some of his neighbors made him drunk the Christmas after he was married. He was so ashamed of it, he and his wife decided they would go to Missouri.

In crossing a stream in Kentucky his best horse was drowned. He got a settler to take care of his wagon and things and his wife rode the remaining horse and carried the spinning wheel. He carried his rifle to kill game to live on. They came to Darksville in Randolph Co., Mo. and stayed one night. His wife was homesick and seeing the little Indian ponies, he too, was unhappy for he came from Kentucky where men had good horses.

So they started back to Kentucky picking up his wagon and goods, and they stayed in Kentucky two years. He got two good mares and a stallion and started back to Missouri, stopping in Lincoln Co. where his wife's uncles and brothers had settled. Their names were Downing.

Then they went on to Randolph County close to where they had lived before. They lived there seven years, then moved close to Fayette. When the town was laid out he carried the surveyor's chain in 1833. In 1838 he moved to the old homestead near Burton, Mo. where he raised his family, and where the three old maids lived and died. He and his wife and the three old maids, Ezekiel and his three infants are buried in the family graveyard there.

When he came from Kentucky he carried coals of fire in his pocket wrapped in wood leather, and that fire was never out till my day. The old maids got so feeble they could not get wood in so they got me to level the fireplace hearth and close it up and put up a coal stove. This was in 1901. So the fire went out.

He always had a good stallion and would lead him to water, sometimes five times a day. I remember his saying "You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink."

When Ezekiel Harris (my father) died, we lived close to them. I was five years old when he died so I remember quite a bit about them. I was with the three old maids a great deal and remember many of the things they talked about. One story I recall was when they lived in Randolph Co. Their close neighbor broke his leg. They could not get any doctor so Grandpa rode his mare to Fayette after Dr. Crews. He would not go without $50 in cash so Grandpa tied his colt in the barn and went back with the doctor. When he had doctored the man, his wife gave him the money so Grandpa had to ride all the way back to Fayette to get his colt.

Another story they used to tell was about a neighbor Grandpa did not get along with. This neighbor went to California for gold in '49, stayed several years. Before leaving, he told his wife if she needed any help with stock to get Grandpa to help her-which she did. When he got rich he went to thank Grandpa. Grandpa told him he had done that for his wife and for him not to speak to him. He and his boys used to get up at three o'clock and kill hogs and dress them-then do a day's work for other men.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY
RESEARCH REPORT

1. The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of temperature on the rate of reaction between hydrogen peroxide and potassium iodide in the presence of a catalyst. The reaction was carried out at various temperatures ranging from 10°C to 40°C. The rate of reaction was measured by the volume of oxygen gas evolved over a fixed period of time. The results showed that the rate of reaction increased with increasing temperature, and the activation energy of the reaction was calculated to be 50 kJ/mol.

2. The effect of the concentration of the reactants on the rate of reaction was also studied. The reaction was carried out at a constant temperature of 25°C, and the concentration of hydrogen peroxide was varied while the concentration of potassium iodide was kept constant. The results showed that the rate of reaction increased with increasing concentration of hydrogen peroxide.

3. The effect of the concentration of the catalyst on the rate of reaction was also studied. The reaction was carried out at a constant temperature of 25°C, and the concentration of the catalyst was varied while the concentrations of the reactants were kept constant. The results showed that the rate of reaction increased with increasing concentration of the catalyst.

4. The effect of the surface area of the catalyst on the rate of reaction was also studied. The reaction was carried out at a constant temperature of 25°C, and the surface area of the catalyst was varied while the concentrations of the reactants and the catalyst were kept constant. The results showed that the rate of reaction increased with increasing surface area of the catalyst.

5. The effect of the nature of the catalyst on the rate of reaction was also studied. The reaction was carried out at a constant temperature of 25°C, and different catalysts were used while the concentrations of the reactants were kept constant. The results showed that the rate of reaction was highest for the catalyst used in this study.

We (mother and two little boys) lived in the Mason House close to Grandpa from the fall of 1873 till the spring of 1875. Then Mother and Uncle Claborne Harris bought a farm apiece about a mile and half from Grandpa, and they ran it together. Mother hired a hand and he and Uncle Clabe did all the work and joined in one half the profits. Mother and two boys lived in one house and Uncle Clabe and Aunt Sue in the other. That spring Uncle Will Harris and wife and son came from Tenn. in a mover's wagon. He lived in a house on Grandpa's place and tended the land till he died with heart disease. That was in April 1879. Then his wife and her boy went back to her folks in Tenn. The boy William was here visiting in the summer of 1933. He and his wife have a boy and a girl.

The Old Maids

Aunt Rachel was very fleshy and when she old, was almost helpless. She fell in yard and broke the lower end of backbone so was never able to walk much afterward. She was eldest and the boss. Aunt Margaret was very deaf and very slim and had one bad hand-some of the fingers were crooked and stiff.

Aunt Zerelda was the most active one. When they were older she did all the marketing. She and Charley, the horse, would go to town every Monday morning if the weather permitted. They had a flock of sheep. They sheared them, took the wool to the carding mill and had it made into rolls. Then they spun the rolls into yarn; then knit socks and sold them to Mr. J. H. Pearson's Dry Goods Store. All fall and winter every Monday morning she would be there. They would start knitting socks in daylight, then go to bed and blow out the candle and lay flat of back and knit. If they would drop a stitch they would get up and light the candle, pick up stitch, blow out candle and go on knitting.

They had a loom and wove carpets. They had one Sunday dress every five years. They kept the Sabbath-did no work and read their Bible. In their younger days all three rode horseback to church but after Aunt Rachel fell, they stayed at home and had their Bible lesson. They could repeat chapters of the Bible by heart. They were Presbyterians. Uncle Will Harris was a Presbyterian preacher; Uncle Jack Harris was a Baptist preacher. Ezekiel, my father, was a Presbyterian.

War History as I have it.

Ezekiel (Bright) and Claborne (Broad) were nicknamed in war. I have heard Claborne Harris, also Will Turner, Sid Cunningham and Charley Sims who was their drummer boy and Charley Walden tell how they were all together in the Civil War. They all enlisted in Cunningham's Co. of State Guards and served till Oct. 1862; then reenlisted in Clark's Reg. and served till the close of the war. When at Shreveport, La. in June 1865 Ezekiel was shot through the wrist while loading his gun. The ball passed through his wrist, canteen, lunch box and into the skin of his stomach. Claborne Harris was shot in the same battle through his knee. They stayed in a cabin in the woods till they were well enough to join the regiment. Ezekiel would carry Claborne to a bog and he would sit and chop it; then Ezekiel carried the wood and his brother back to the cabin. They got some ground corn from an old colored man to live on. They were in the Battle of Lookout Mountain above the clouds and could see it raining below them. They were also in Battle of Pea Ridge, Ark. and Battle of Glasgow, Mo.

The DOWNINGS of Bedford Co., Va.
By Mary Cross Cole (Mrs. Redmond S.)
1312 S. Owasso, Tulsa 14, Okla.
March 1951

When I was a girl I remember hearing my grandfather, Thomas Banks Harris, tell stories of his early life and its hardships to which he was early inured. One story, hard for us to accept today, told how his father would make him run around the house when he first awoke, in his bare feet in the snow, to harden him for the rugged life of the pioneer. Throughout life, it was characteristic of this grandfather to meet difficulties bravely and never to spare himself personally. He also held to this standard for his family.

In his old age when time was none too precious, he would tell of his father, William Harris's trip from Grayson Co., Ky.; of the bringing of live coals of fire from Kentucky which built a fire long cherished in the family; of conditions during the War between the States, and occasionally, something of his grandparents. It is unfortunate that children care so little for these stories that in later life become treasures. This explains why I am taking time out of a busy life to record all that I have available of my people, for my grandchildren so that it can be easily read when they eventually reach the age to care for it.

Grandfather revered his mother, Margaret Downing Harris who was a woman of strong character and never tiring industry. She loved her Bible and was a devoted Presbyterian. She was the mother of eleven children only one of whom died in infancy. Grandfather also told of Ezekiel Downing who was crippled because of "white swelling" in his leg. Perhaps the mystery of this disease impressed it upon my mind!

In early days families usually migrated in groups for protection. In many instances we find kindred families together in Virginia, then in Kentucky and later in Missouri. Downings, Browns and a few Harris names are in Bedford Co, Va., then in Lincoln Co., Ky. and later in Lincoln and Howard counties, Mo. These families held to family names and traditions.

In the History of Lincoln Co., Mo., published in 1888 (p.258) one of the early settlers, Mr. Clark, is quoted as saying that he was born in Link-horn Co., N.C., lived in Link-horn county in old Kentucky and wished to die in Link-horn county so he moved that the name be given to the Missouri county (6th county in Mo.)

So far I have not been able to go back of the material left by Grandfather Thomas Harris concerning his related families except in the case of the Downing family. Fortunately another descendant of Ezekiel Downing with the same ambition as mine, contacted me several years ago to discover what information I had on the Downings. We pooled our interests, and in her research, she discovered that the family came from Bedford Co., Va. where Ezekiel was listed in the will of his father, John Downing. Many other records were found there of this family.

Now, of course, we are trying to find where John Downing came from. The above mentioned cousin, Nell Downing Norton (Mrs. V.R.) of New London, Mo. is working on the Downing family history with plans to publish same in memory of her father who had worked on it during his life time. She has collected from her branch of the family traditions that say John O'Downing came from North Ireland.

just before the Revolutionary War and settled in S.C., then later went to Va. Another relative lists the south of Ireland as the original home. Since the Downings were Presbyterians they probably came from Ulster in N. Ireland. All traditions agree in the description that they were large, fleshy men except Ezekiel who was a cripple. The brothers, John, Jr., Andrew and William are supposed to have fought in the Revolutionary War and it is said that the father John, was called to his door and shot by a Tory who was afterwards arrested, tried and executed. Lewis R. Downing (James³, Ezekiel², John¹) added this, "After the war, grandfather Ezekiel settled in Va. He had four sons, James, John, Ezekiel and Andrew, and four daughters, Polly, Betsy, Nancy and Peggy. He moved to Ky. when James, my father was a small boy. From Kentucky, my parents, he having married Martha Casey, came to Mo. in 1819- but the Indians were so numerous and threatening, they returned to Kentucky the following autumn but came back to Missouri in 1821 after the state had been admitted to the Union, and settled in Lincoln Co. where I was born." Mrs. Norton's research shows that James was born in Ky. but L.R. Downing's story shows how families moved about even though travel was dangerous and difficult.

In broadening our research we discovered the Downing name was quite common in the thirteen original states before the Revolutionary War. Some of the names we have found are: Emmanuel Downing who is believed to have been the first of the name to emigrate to America. He came to Mass. in 1638 with his wife, Lucy Winthrop sister of the first governor.

John Downing at Ipswich, Mass. before 1669 m. Mehitable Brabrook.

John Downing, Braintree, Mass. before 1673

David Downing at Antrim, N.H. as early as 1750

William of Va. in 1647; Enoch of Va. in 1652, Richard of Va. in 1653 etc.

Early Pennsylvania records are full of the Downing name, including Ezekiel. These leads were diligently searched for years but now, preponderance of tradition causes us to accept the statement that John Downing came from Ireland. Another interesting notation has been found by Mrs. Norton linking the Downing name with Dinane.

We have the tradition that John Downing came to Va. from S.C. Records show that he was living in Bedford Co., Va. in 1761. Mrs. Norton lists his wife as Mary, but to date we do not know her Christian name and the date and place of birth and death and where they were married. Since she was not mentioned in the will it is safe to assume that she predeceased him in Bedford Co., and if his grave could be discovered, hers would probably be nearby.

WILL OF JOHN DOWNING OF BEDFORD CO., VA.
Will Book 1, p 226

In the name of God, amen. I, John Downing of the County of Bedford and Parish of Russell, being thro the Goodness of Almighty God in the full Exercise of my reason but calling to mind the Mortality of my body and that it is appointed for all men once to die Do make and Ordain this my last Will and Testament INPRIMIS I commit my Body to the Dust and my soul to God who gave it As touching my Worldly Estate with which it has pleased God to Bless me in this life I give Demise and Dispose of the same in the following manner and form Vizt. I give to my son William Downing one survey of land which I purchased of Doctor Thomas Walker lying on the South side of Stony Fork of Reed Creek in Montgomery County and as much of one Other Tract of Land belonging to me adjoining the said Survey as lies on the South Side of Stony Fork. Item I give to my son John Downing the one half of a Tract of Patented Land lying on the North side of the Stony fork beginning on the Creek both on the lower and the upper line and going along each until a line drawn from the One to the Other shall divide the land into two Equal parts Unless the remaining part after such Division shall be deprived of a spring and in that case this parcel shall widen on the West side and Narrow in proportion on the Other, so as to leave the Spring out of this Item I give to my son Andrew Downing the other half of the above patented Land. Named patented Land. Item I give to my sons James Downing and Ezekiel Downing one survey of Land Lying on Reed Creek in Montgomery County called blue Spring to be equally divided by them by a line to be made from the Middle of the line which runs up and down or along the Creek to the Opposite side of said Land, the lower half to be James and the upper to Ezekiel Item I will that all my land lying in Bedford County be sold and the Price thereof Equally divided Between my sons Andrew Downing and Ezekiel Downing and my daughter Martha Downing after deducting from said Price Twenty Pounds Current Money of Virginia, which I give to my daughter Margaret W. Fairland Item I give to my daughter Mary Yoakum the sum of Ten Shillings besides what she has already Received and all the Residue of my Estate I leave to be Equally divided between my sons Andrew and Ezekiel and my daughter Martha Lastly I constitute and appoint my sons John Downing and James Downing Executors of this my last Will and Testament. In Witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this fourteenth Day of November in the Year of our Lord One Thousand and Seven Hundred and Seventy Seven.

Mrs. ~~Norton~~ adds the following:

Among the Va. Legislative papers is a Petition of the Peaks of Otter Presbyterian Church 1774. John Downing signed this petition. The Peaks of Otter Church was one of the oldest Presbyterian churches in Va. -no date of organization is given.
Rev. David Rice became its pastor in 1766 and continued in charge until 1783.
Rev. David Rice was afterwards known as the "Patriarch of Presbyterians in Ky."
He no doubt preached John Downings' funeral in 1777 and the Downings may have either come with him or followed David Rice when he came to Ky. Often pastors led a migration. So it is significant that David Rice was a witness to John Downing's will.

FIRST GENERATION

1. John Downing died in Bedford Co., Va. Dec. 1777.
It seems certain from the foregoing will that John Downing had at least eight children we know very little about any of them except one son Ezekiel.

Children (Downing):

- i. William, inherited land purchased of Dr. Thomas Walker.
- ii. John, Jr. inherited land on North side of Stony Fork, Bedford Co.
Bedford marriages give: "John Downing and Rachel Dooling 3-23-1778
Stephen Dooley, surety. Another lists Stephen Dooley and Molly Bramlett
7-24-1781, John Downing, surety. In William and Mary Quarterly Vol. ii page 281 the marriage is given as John Downing and Rachel Dooley, 1778.
- iii. Andrew, inherited land on North side of Stony Fork.
- iv. James, probably in Montgomery Co. in 1779 Deed Bk. 7, p 232.
- v. Ezekiel, b. Sept. 21, 1745 m. Rachel Brown.
- vi. Martha, still unm. in 1777 when her father wrote his will.
- vii. Margaret at least 18 years of age-listed as "spinster" m. Sept. 13, 1763
James McFarland. (In will the name is given as James W. Farland).
- viii. Mary m. Yoakum.

SECOND GENERATION

2. EZEKIEL DOWNING (John¹), one of the sons of John and Mary Downing of Bedford Co., Va. was born in Ireland. We are strengthened in this belief by the record found in the Kentucky State Vital Statistics where Mary Copelin aged 82 died in Hart Co. and it was stated she was the daughter of Ezekiel Downing who was born in Ireland. (See Page 2-Downings).

A granddaughter of Ezekiel, son of Ezekiel², found a loose page in an old family Bible which she sent to Mrs. Norton containing this information: Rachel Downing was born to Thomas and Phebe Brown, Oct. 14, 1760. Ezekiel Downing son of John and Mary Downing was born Sept. 21, 1754. Was married to Rachel Brown, daughter of Thomas Brown in 1778.

Clasborne Harris, a brother of my grandfather, Thomas Banks Harris, wrote me many years ago that Rachel was the daughter of Thomas and Phoebe Brown. It was a relief to have it proved by the records in Bedford Co., Va. and elsewhere.

Rachel Brown and Ezekiel Downing were married Jan. 30, 1778. Their marriage bond states:

"Know all men by these presents that Ezekiel Downing and Thomas Brown are held and firmly bound to the Commonwealth of Virginia in the sum of fifty pounds to the which payment Well and truly to be made we bind Ourselves Our firmly by these Presents Sealed and Dated this 3rd day of Jany, 1778.

"The condition of the above Oblign, is such that whereas there is a Marriage Shortly intended to be had and Solemnized between the above bound Ezekiel Downing and Rachel Brown. If therefore there be no Lawful Cause to Obstruct the same then the above Oblign, to be void otherwise to remain in full force & Virtue.

At some undisclosed date Ezekiel Downing took his family to Kentucky. It is known that he lived in Grayson County, Ky. where the Harris family lived before migration to Missouri. The Grayson County Court House was destroyed by fires (1856, 1896, 1936) and the old records lost so the only available ones for that county, are from Lincoln County from which Grayson was taken, the tax lists of the county at Frankfort, and the census records. We do not know where Ezekiel and Rachel Downing died nor where they were buried.

Children (Downing):

- i. Mary (Polly) b.1779 d.Feb.12,1861;m. John Copelin, had at least one son John (See Hart Co.,Ky statistics-page 2 Downing story).
- ii. Elizabeth- Nothing further known

- vi. James, b.1788 d. before Aug.16,1843, probate of will in Lincoln Co., Mo. (Try, Mo. Records). He m. Martha Casey, b. in Ky. in 1793. There were 13 children in this family-three died young. The second son, William Casey Downing m. Margaret Ann Reading in Pike Co., Mo. They had 13 children of which Dr. Thomas Jefferson Downing was one. He married Sarah Campbell Hays and had three children. Nell Downing Norton of New London, Mo. is the youngest child. She has complete data on the maternal and paternal lines in her family and it is hoped we can all buy a Downing Family History from her some day soon.

Colden Williams (1763-1832)

The surname "Williams" is found in all settlements, counties and states so tracing ancestry on this line is quite an undertaking, a "needle in the haystack" quest. However, the name Colden is so unusual that our ancestor Colden Williams is recognized whether the records are from North Carolina, Kentucky or Missouri and the spelling may be Coledon, Colday or Golden.

The publication entitled "North Carolina 1780-1781" by David Schenck, LL.D., published by Edwards and Brighton, Raleigh, N.C., 1889-Vol. 16 page 1192, shows that Coledon Williams was a member of "Col. Abraham Shepherd's Tenth Regiment of the Continental Line for N.C. under Capt. Peter Bascot." He enlisted in 1782 and was mustered out in N.C. in 1784, never gaining rank above a private as he was in service only a year and a few months.

Colden Williams was born in Maryland close to the Virginia line near Baltimore. While he was in the war, his mother and father died, so he and his brothers, John, William and Willoughby did not return home.

Colden Williams went to Madison Co., Ky. where he married and lived until he came to Mo. in 1816. He is listed as having married in Madison Co., Ky. but a check of the records there last summer (1950) failed to find his record. The History of Christian Co., Ky., 1884, lists Colden Williams and others as settlers of Christian Co. who came perhaps prior to 1810 (page 65). Another record (now mislaid) was from an old book on the Baptist Church in Ky. and he was listed as having established a church in Christian Co.

In Missouri, Colden Williams was deeded a farm south of Fayette still known as the "Williams Place". He was prominent in Howard Co. Mo. history as court records show. He established four churches: Mt. Gilead in Apr. 1820, Mt. Pleasant organized Dec. 20, 1817, Bethel and Mt. Zion of which he was pastor thirty years. Rock Springs (Old School Baptist) was organized in 1823 by Elders E. Rodgers and Colden Williams. Original members were the same as those of Mt. Moriah. Colden Williams was buried on his farm and later, members of his family moved his body to Walnut Ridge Cemetery at Fayette, Mo.

Colden Williams was born Feb. 27, 1763, died Jan. 31, 1832; m. Madison Co., Ky. Mar. 22, 1787 Mary Short, b. May 22, 1767, d. Oct. 31, 1823. Several of his descendants are members of the D.A.R. using the above data. His will was probated Feb. 6, 1832 in Howard Co., Mo.

Children (Williams):

- i. Uriah b. Apr. 26, 1788 m. Polly Thompson. Est. prob. May 11, 1858.
- ii. Sarah, b. May 5, 1792 m. James Hardin.
- iii. Mary (Polly) b. Feb. 22, 1794 m. Joseph Davis.
- iv. Nancy b. Oct. 3, 1800 m. Josiah Brown. Their son "Colday" m. Martha Wright dau. of William and Polly Wright of Ky. Colday's son, Joseph m. Elizabeth Thompson Harris dau. of Thomas B. Harris and Margaret (Peggy) Downing. Uncle Joe Brown says "Colday's" full name was Colden Cooper Brown and his daughter, Bell Young, lists him as Calvin Colden Brown.

The first of these is the fact that the Last Will and Testament of Colden Williams

Realizing the uncertainty of life and knowing that all men must die and believing it prudent for man to make such disposition of his worldly effects or estate as seems to him most desirable, therefore I, Colden Williams of the County of Howard, State of Missouri, being of perfect sound mind and disposing memory, do make and ordain this my last will and testament, hereby disposing of my estate as follows:

It is my will and desire that all my just debts be paid and after my funeral expense is paid, then I will and bequeath to my son Uriah, a certain negro man by name of George to him and his heirs forever. To my daughter Sarah, now Sarah Hardin I will and bequeath a certain girl by name of Isbell. To my daughter Polly, now Polly Davis, I will and bequeath a certain negro girl by the name of Lucinda. To my daughter Nancy, now Nancy Brown, I will and bequeath a certain negro girl by the name of Roannah. To my daughter Elizabeth, now Elizabeth Thompson, I will and bequeath a certain negro girl by the name of Temple, which daughters, Sarah, Nancy, Polly and Elizabeth now have in their possession the negroes which I have here above willed them. It is my will and desire that they will keep possession of their respective slaves in as full a manner as I can convey to them. I will and bequeath to my daughter Charity a certain negro by the name of Chany; I also will to my daughter Charity, one horse, saddle and bridle to be worth one hundred and ten dollars. I also will to my daughter Charity one of my feather beds and bed furniture to be selected for her by my executors. To my son John, I will and bequeath two separate tracts or parcels of land lying within the present limits of Howard County and on the waters of the Moniteau one tract or parcel of which contains one hundred and twenty acres and fifteen hundredths lying or being the northwest quarter of Section Nineteen Township Fiftyone, Range fourteen. The other tract or parcel or quarter section of land contains one hundred and sixty acres which adjoins the above tract or quarter section being the Northeast Quarter of Section Twenty four, Township fifty one, Range fifteen, which two separate tracts or parcels of land as per grants or patents contain three hundred and thirty acres and fifteen hundredths which I bequeath to my Son John and his heirs forever. I also further will and bequeath to my son John a certain negro boy by the name of Isaac. I also give John a horse, saddle and bridle, to be worth one hundred and ten dollars and also one of my feather beds and bed furniture. To my son Willoughby I will and bequeath my home plantation with all the land adjoining thereto which is two hundred and forty acres to him and his heirs forever. I further give my son Willoughby a certain negro boy by the name of Charles. I further give my son Willoughby a horse, saddle and bridle to be worth one hundred and ten dollars and do further give Willoughby one of my feather beds and bed furniture. To my daughter Mahaly which is my youngest child, I will and bequeath to her a negro girl by the name of Nelly. I also give my daughter Mahaly a horse, saddle and bridle to be worth one hundred and ten dollars, and also to give to her one of my feather beds and bed furniture, the bed and furniture to be selected by my executors. I also give my daughter Charity a cow and calf to be worth ten dollars but here be it fully understood that if my daughter Charity should die without issue then and in that case what I have willed and bequeathed to her, it is my will and pleasure that it should be given by my executors to my daughter Mahaly to be enjoyed by her and her heirs forever.

The balance of my estate I wish to be applied to the schooling and maintenance of John, Willoughby, Charity and Mahaly under the direction of my executors and the remainder after schooling and maintenance as aforesaid, it is my will, should be equally divided among all my children. I do hereby constitute and appoint Benjamin H. Reeves and my son, Uriah Williams my executors to this my last will and testament hereby revoking every former will or wills by me heretofore made.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 2nd day of March 1821.

THE OCCASION FOR USING THIS BIOGRAPHY WAS THE PRESENTATION OF A GAVEL TO THE HOWARD COUNTY CHAPTER, DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

Colden Williams and his three brothers-Willoughby, John and William, were born and reared in Maryland, near Baltimore, Colden being the youngest of the four brothers. All served in the Revolutionary War-two of them as officers. Willoughby was a Colonel.

At the close of the war, the Kentucky Territory was opened for the benefit of the soldiers. Grants of land were given to all who desired a homestead. Colden took a land grant in Madison County, called the "Mother County" of Kentucky. Here he erected a cabin and due time was married, and reared a large family. The family was brought up in the Baptist faith, he being a hard shell Baptist minister.

The old history of the Baptists in Missouri says "Colden Williams stopped at Cape Girardeau, on his way to Howard County and organized Bethel Baptist Church". He arrived here in Howard County, in the fall of 1816, bought the land known as the old Williams farm, now owned by John Williams and Mary Elizabeth Williams Bell, which is two miles south of Fayette, from the Government for $1.25 per acre.

He and his sons and the slaves he brought with him, erected cabins down by a spring on the Bonne Femme Creek, and there set up housekeeping. Colden also brought with him apples from Kentucky from which seeds were planted. While these sprouts were growing into trees and the land was being cleared for crops-Colden took an active part in the religious life of the county.

He helped to organize several churches-among them Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, which is on the land now owned by Morrison Hughes. Then within a short time he assisted in organizing Mt. Gilead Church, in which services are still being held. The last church he helped to organize was Mt. Zion Church, close to the farm owned by Robert Payne. He preached until the year he died.

The log cabins built when the family came to the county were moved to higher ground, which is the present location. The two first floor log cabins were weatherboarded with walnut lumber which was also used for the woodwork and floors. Some of the apple trees grew to be 95 years old and were still bearing apples, but were badly decayed when my father had them cut down and from some of the wood had made gavels for each member of his family.

So MADAME REGENT -with this history of the Old Revolutionary Soldier, Colden Williams, on whose record I became a "Daughter", and the story of the apple tree which furnished the wood for this gavel-it is my pleasure to present to the Howard County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, my gavel, believing the chapter will cherish it, as I have.

Nero Morgan Thompson 1794-1866

Nero Morgan Thompson lived and reared his family in Howard Co., Mo. The History of Howard and Cooper Counties p.599 says he was a native of Kentucky; born in 1794, came to Howard Co., Mo. in 1812. My mother told me he was born in La. and the 1850 census gives his birthplace as S.C. and the History of Hol- away Co., Mo. p.568-9 gives it as N.C. He was a prominent man and the name "Nero Morgan" is outstanding so should be a clue among the numerous Thompsons wherever he was born. So far research has failed to connect the Thompsons and Morgans anywhere. (I have my sights cast for a Mr. Nero Morgan!). So far no records are available before his advent in Howard Co., Mo.

NERO MORGAN THOMPSON FAMILY (Continued and corrected)

The latter part of August 1952, a visit was made to the old Thompson farm near Burton, Mo. Here we met Mrs. Jennie Summers who was born Oct. 28, 1877, married in 1947 to Arthur Summers who died in the fall of 1952 at the home of a daughter in Moberly, Mo. Mrs. Summers has lived all her life on the home place of Nero M. Thompson, her great grandfather until the fall of 1953 when she moved to Fayette, Mo. A portion of the old home shows huge logs chinked with plaster. Mrs. Summers said her father, Nero Thompson (1841-1926) built the house before she was born.

Several statements have been made as to the birthplace of Nero Morgan Thompson. Mrs. Summers insisted she had heard them say they were from the Carolinas. The 1850 Census lists Nero M. Thompson from South Carolina. She said they came about the time of the Missouri Earthquake (1811-1813). The only other relative she could recall coming from the Carolinas was old Nero's sister, Sarah. She was so afraid she would die in the wild west that she brought her coffin with her and took it back when she returned home.

At present there are only fifty acres in her farm - forty of these are part of the original acres settled by Nero Morgan Thompson in the early days. He and his wife, Elizabeth Williams are buried in the old cemetery on the place.

Mrs. Summers did not know of her great grandfather's Bible or any records he might have kept. She does have his old camphor bottle, still with camphor in it and an old wooden bread bowl of his. Other relics have been given to other members of the family.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

The history of the United States of America is a story of growth and development. It begins with the first settlers who came to the continent in search of a new home. They found a land of vast resources and potential, but also one of many challenges. The early years were marked by conflict and struggle, but the spirit of the American people was one of resilience and determination. They fought for their freedom and their right to self-governance, and in the process, they created a new nation.

The American Revolution was a turning point in the nation's history. It was a time of great change and upheaval, as the colonies broke away from British rule and declared their independence. The war was long and difficult, but the American people emerged victorious. They established a new government based on the principles of liberty and justice for all. This was the beginning of the United States of America.

The early years of the United States were marked by a period of rapid growth and expansion. The nation's territory increased significantly, and its population grew steadily. The American people were proud of their new nation and its achievements. They believed in the power of the individual and the strength of the community. This was the spirit of the American dream.

The American people were also proud of their new government. They believed in the power of the Constitution and the importance of the rule of law. They fought to protect their rights and their freedoms, and they were successful in doing so. The United States of America was born, and it was a nation of great promise and potential.

The American people were also proud of their new nation's achievements. They believed in the power of the individual and the strength of the community. This was the spirit of the American dream. Raymond West is collecting and compiling data on the Thompson family. Much of this is available now but will not be included in the Harris History since it is too voluminous. Mr. West will be glad to receive additional data on his family lines.

The following story was written by him in 1952. William Short Thompson had a son Nero b. Oct. 29, 1841 d. July 4, 1926, buried in the Atkins Cemetery a short distance east of the Nero Thompson farm. He married Susan Jane Atkins Feb. 8, 1866. She was born Oct. 17, 1846 and d. Aug. 19, 1921. Buried in the Atkins Cemetery. Nero Thompson is the father of Jennie May Summers. Uriah, son of Nero Morgan Thompson is the great grandfather of Raymond West.

MEMORIES OF THE THOMPSON FARM

By Raymond West

I remember Jennie Thompson Summers' telling about Uncle Nero and Aunt Susan's problems in building the old home place on the old Nero Morgan Thompson farm. At the time of their marriage they started to build their home. His part of the farm was very densely wooded with hickory, walnut and white oak trees. His brothers and friends helped him to get things started. The house is constructed of hard hickory logs. They must have been large trees for they squared up to be about twelve inch logs. In the center hall, the logs are chinked with plaster and wood chips. The logs were evidently dressed down with an adz as the work is very smooth and the logs have cut marks every few inches. The center hall is the only part of the house where the logs are visible. (That is, downstairs).

The house at first was a one room log affair with fireplace in one end. Several of Nero's children were born before another log room was added for needed space. This room is the kitchen. The two rooms are connected by a center hall. The center hall has a ladder going up to the second floor.

The second floor consists of three low cowlined rooms and here, in the walls, the logs may be seen. The room over the original log house was used as a bedroom. This had a cherry spool bed with cords for springs. These cords have pegs for taking up slack from time to time. This bed had a trundle bed where some of the children slept. My mother as a little girl stayed at Uncle Nero's part of the time and slept in this bed with other children of Nero's. This room also contains two spinning wheels. Uncle Nero produced his own wool and Aunt Susan used to make material for clothing on these wheels. Jennie Summers, a daughter who has lived on this farm and in this house her entire life, has the carding combs and some wool material that was used in those days. This is always an interesting room for me to prowl in as a boy. To this day, my grandmother's (Ada Thompson Griffin) riding habit and side saddle hang on one wall. To my knowledge they have not been moved since my grandmother died, Mar. 4, 1911. This room until a few short years ago contained relics of past members of the immediate family--shoes, clothing, old newspapers of ancient times (to me), and old letters. Some are still there but so much has been discarded that I might have been a wealth of information to me now when I am trying to trace members of the Thompson family.

In the room over the kitchen the logs are not visible as they have been covered with lath and plaster. This is the room I usually occupy on my visits there. It has a cherry poster bed, three quarter size with cord springs and a shuch tick. I can lie on my back and put my feet on the ceiling. I usually do this in the morning- in lieu of my setting up exercises. This room also has a full size cherry bed, a counterpart of the smaller one. A few old time hickory chairs that have been in the Thompson family for over a hundred years, are kept there.

The center hall upstairs contains odds and ends. There is a homemade bookcase with old books. Here I found Barbara Thompson Hall's diary that she kept as a young girl. I read this diary one rainy day several years ago. If it is still there, I know it will contain a wealth of information for me. She was a wonderful person then, and lived very close to Christ-and she still does after almost eighty years.

The house downstairs is very much as it was when Aunt Susan and Uncle Nero were living. Take the kitchen, for instance. The dishes are always set in the same place in the cupboard just as they were placed when Nero and Susan were living. The wooden bread bowl sets on a low cupboard and I can almost taste the good biskuits that Aunt Susan used to mix in it. This bread bowl belonged to Nero Morgan Thompson.

The house up to a few years ago had the original hand hewn shingles. I am sure some of the outbuildings still have the original shingles. South of the house Nero had a wonderful orchard and this helped to feed his large family. This orchard is gone now. Mrs. Summers still has the old cider press which now is very old.

The farm originally had rain fences around it, some are still there. From the kitchen stood the well with the gourd dipper. This water used to be so good to me because it was so cold. This well has been replaced now with a cistern.

Northeast from the house was Nero's shop where he did most of the blacksmith work that arose on the farm. This place is still standing and some of his tools are there.

It is a common knowledge that the medical profession has been for many years engaged in a struggle to secure a more uniform and efficient system of medical education. The American Medical Association has been at the head of this movement, and has been successful in securing the passage of the Flexner report, which has been the basis of the new medical curriculum. Susan used to make all the soap for the family. I think eventually this chore fell to Jennie Thompson Summers. She never liked the soap business.

The family used to raise turkeys and the rascals were such rovers that bells were placed around their necks. This would put someone next to just where and how many miles away they might be. The cows all had bells and were named. The sound of those bells always made me mighty lonesome.

Nero planted lots of cedars and the entrance to his farm is lined with beautiful cedars planted in a straight line each side of the road. At the present time the farm is covered with cedars which have become a pest.

The fireplace in the original room used to serve for heat as well as cooking purposes. This fireplace is now in a bad state of repair and never used. I can remember my mother telling me of the wonderful times she spent as a girl around the fireplace with the Thompson children during the cold winter. In the evenings cold red apples and lots of popcorn made for happy times.

Nero kept his chest in this room and it was always locked. No one was ever allowed to see in it. Nero was a temperate man but he liked a "snort" once in a while. They say he kept his Bourbon there, away from his wife's eyes. She didn't approve. When the children were growing up, some of their friends were always there and after church services on Sunday all would be there for dinner. They always set a good table and believed in good food and plenty of it.

Susan and Nero Thompson were the parents of eight children, all born on the home place of Nero Morgan Thompson.

Nero Thompson spent three and a half years in service in the Civil War on the Confederate side. He served under Gen. Price and was in the Battle of Lexington, Mo. He also fought in the Battle of Westport. I have heard him tell about the Battle of Lexington, about its being so bloody that the blood ran down in gullies toward the Missouri River. His buddy was killed in the Battle of Westport. They were together when his buddy raised his head over the trench and it was blown off.

Mr. West has collected much more interesting data such as an authentic story of William Short Thompson and Brother James' Gold Rush trip and ship wreck and James' death on the plains. Then there are more stories from Civil War experiences telling of fighting, imprisonment and death.

There were several other things that I noticed when I was in the room. I noticed that the room was very clean and that the furniture was very nice. I also noticed that the room was very bright and that the walls were very white.

I also noticed that the room was very comfortable and that the bed was very soft. I also noticed that the room was very quiet and that the air was very fresh. I also noticed that the room was very nice and that the people who were in the room were very friendly.

4. THOMAS BANKS HARRIS (William², Thomas¹), "a prominent citizen of Burton Township was born May 2, 1818 in Kentucky. His parents were William and Margaret Harris to whom were born 12 children and 11 grew to manhood. Thomas B. the second in the family came to Mo. with his father in 1820 locating in Howard Co. When 21 years old he went to Lincoln Co. and two years later removed to what is now the Platte Purchase in 1840 remaining there till 1844. Returning to Howard he purchased 80 acres of land where his residence now stands. Mr. Harris was married Jan. 16, 1845 to Miss Margaret D. Thompson of this county and they had fourteen children of whom four died in infancy. He now owns 520 acres of land all in cultivation. He has given much property to his children. Politically he is a Democrat. In religious preference he is a Cumberland Presbyterian. Mr. Harris is a man who never drank a glass of liquor! Page 591 History of Howard and Cooper Counties.

Reconstructing his life story it seems he came from near Gettysburg in Grayson Co., Ky. as a babe in arms. His father evidently made a trip to Lincoln Co., Mo. for records show that many Downings lived there in early days so it was a natural migration for the family to move together. Then he went back to Ky. and returned bringing his wife and two babies and the spinning wheel and the live coal- a tradition recalled by older members of the family.

That statement about liquor is true for it seems at one time Thomas as Harris worked in a tavern where it was his duty to serve liquor. He often said that he has never tasted a drop. He was very austere in his habits. Late in life he decided he would stop chewing tobacco and drinking coffee. These were life time habits. My mother has told me how he'd get up at 4 o'clock, drink three cups of coffee (the old fashioned cup was like a small bowl without handles), then he'd have all the chores done and be in the fields at work about the time his neighbors were finishing their chores. He spared himself in working to complete a task.
